 - a) To provide for refunds, at the request of the consumer, the manufacturer shall do one (1) of the following:
 - i. Accept return of the assistive device and refund to the consumer and to any holder of a perfected security interest in the consumer's assistive device, as the interest may appear, the full purchase price including any finance charge paid by the consumer at the point of sale, plus collateral costs, less a reasonable allowance for use; except that in the case of hearing aids, the manufacturer's invoice price shall be refunded; or
 - ii.  - b) To receive a comparable new assistive device to that having the nonconformity or a refund, the consumer shall offer to transfer possession of the nonconforming assistive device to its manufacturer. - 4. Under this section, a reasonable allowance for use may not exceed the amount obtained by multiplying the total amount paid by the consumer under a purchase or for which the consumer is obligated under a written lease by a fraction, the denominator of which is one thousand eight hundred twenty five (1,825), which is the number of days in a five (5) year period, and the numerator of which is the number of days that the consumer used the assistive device before first reporting the nonconformity to the manufacturer, assistive device leaser, or assistive device dealer.
